

THE ANNUAL GRANT PROGRAM, a major initiative of Capital Women in Philanthropy, provides vital funding to enhance Capital Health's existing programs and services, and to seed new initiatives.

Every spring, CWP members and guests gather for the CIRCLE OF CARE RECEPTION. This special evening gives our grant recipients an opportunity to share the projects that are funded through the Grant Program. These informative presentations highlight the impact of our collective support on improving quality of life for patients, their families and caregivers.

capital WOMEN

in PHILANTHROPY

Women have been and continue to be an integral part of Capital Health's success as the region's leading healthcare resource. Capital Women in Philanthropy (CWP) invites you to join our network of caring women who share a deep commitment to the health and well-being of family, friends and community.

CWP members represent a diverse group of women in the communities we serve as well as Capital Health physicians, nurses and other healthcare professionals throughout our healthcare system. Membership encourages women's active involvement in the life of our dynamic institution. Together, we can have a significant impact on Capital Health's role as a valued resource, providing innovative, compassionate, high quality care to all who might benefit.

Capital Women in Philanthropy welcomes your participation with a gift at any level to help ensure that Capital Health's exceptional physicians, nurses and staff continue providing the highest standard of care.

Our IMPACT

Since Capital Women in Philanthropy began in 2008, members have collectively contributed over $200,000 to advance patient care, enhance programs and expand community outreach efforts.

This support, and the philanthropy it represents, matters greatly as healthcare delivery undergoes unprecedented change.
