TEACHING and TRAINING

In 1999-2003 with a $1,262,442 grant from the European Union (EU) developed the first multi-organ transplant fellowship in southern Europe. In that program trained the following surgeons:

Salvatore Gruttadauria: sgruttadauria@ISMETT.edu

Augusto Lauro: augustola@yahoo.com

At Thomas Jefferson University Hospitals, in 2005, developed the first ASTS approved fellowship in kidney transplantation. Trained the following surgeons:

Maurizio Iaria: miaria@ao.pr.it

Vasileios Kostaras: vnkostaras@gmail.com

Jorge Humberto Castro: jhcastro@hotmail.com

Rajeev Sinha: drrajeevsinha@gmail.com

Ahmad Safra: ahmad.safra@jefferson.edu

At Thomas Jefferson University Hospitals mentored the following Residents:

Adam Bodzin: ab2981@gmail.com

Thea Price: thea.price@jefferson.edu

Meredith Baker: Meredith.anne.harrison@gmail.com

Adam Johnson: adam.johnson@jefferson.edu

Jeffrey Neale: jeffneale@hotmail.com

Leslie Anewenah: LAnewenah@mercyhealth.org

At Thomas Jefferson University Hospitals mentored the following Medical Students:

Jon Harrison: jmh021@jefferson.edu

Justin Torosian: justin.torosian@jefferson.edu

Lauren Margetich: lauren.margetich@jefferson.edu

Administrative Assignments

Dr. Doria participated in the development of the European Medical Division of the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center which, in less than 36 months resulted in a solid cultural and scientific cooperative agreement between the University of Pittsburgh and the University of Palermo - Italy, and produced the exchange of numerous visiting professors, fellows, students (at both pre- and post-doctoral levels), and registered nurses from these 2 Institutions. In less than one year, more than 100 visiting professionals exchanged between these two Institutions.

Dr. Doria's contribution facilitates the establishment of a partnership between the UPMC Health System and the Civico and Cervello Hospitals of Palermo, Italy, which has resulted in the Istituto Mediterraneo per i Trapianti e Terapie ad Alta Specializzazione. This facility is located in Palermo, Italy, and specializes in transplantation and highly specialized medical therapies; it serves the entire Mediterranean Basin, and is managed by the UPMC Health System. This new medical facility received $75 million in funding by the Italian government and the European Union, and an 18-year annual operational budget was approved for funding by the Italian government.

At Thomas Jefferson University Hospitals (TJUH) in Philadelphia, starting from 2003, Dr. Doria took a distressed and low volume transplant program and made it one of the most successful in UNOS Region 2. The liver transplant programs at Jefferson, under Doria's direction, became the fastest growing in its area, and the one with the lowest mortality rate in the waiting list. The kidney transplant program became the one with the shortest waiting time from listing to transplantation. TJUH is now the second largest transplant program for both livers and kidneys in our geographic area. At Jefferson, Doria introduced a number of procedures not available before: live donor liver transplant, liver auto-transplant performed for patients diagnosed with advanced liver cancer, and liver dialysis (MARS). Doria developed and direct the Kimmel Cancer Center – Jefferson Liver Tumor Center, a multidisciplinary group caring for patients diagnosed with liver tumors. In 2010, Doria started the robotic assisted hepato-biliary (HB) program at Jefferson. In 2013 Doria re-branded the Jefferson Transplant program into the Jefferson Transplant Institute a new legal entity and business proposition positioned to become one of the largest transplant institutes in the north-east coast of the US.
