Losing a baby requires a safe, supportive, nonjudgmental place to navigate through your grief and share your experiences with other families. We see you and you are not alone. This monthly support group welcomes all parents who have experienced the loss of a baby at any gestational age. Karen Davison, the group facilitator, will provide guidance and tools to help attendees process and heal through their loss. Karen is a registered nurse, childbirth educator, member of Capital Health's Perinatal Bereavement Task Force, and trained through Resolve Through Sharing.
